

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

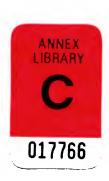

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at http://books.google.com/

Subscribers are earnestly solicited on behalf of

ALFRED NUTT,

AGED 7½ YEARS,

Whose Father, the late Bro. John Nutt, was a Coal Merchant, in Leicester, and became a bankrupt, owing to great losses sustained in a farm which he occupied, which circumstance so preyed upon his mind as to cause his death six weeks afterwards, leaving a Widow and Five Children totally unprovided for. He was a subscribing member of St. John's Lodge, No. 279, for sevemenen years, up to his death. His widow is quite unable provide a suitable education for her children; she therefore, implores the kind assistance of the Governors and Subscribers of her little boy.

MAYAR'S SEMOLINA.

NOTICE.

Read this with care and attention.)

THE MANUFACTORY of MAYAR'S SEMOLIFIAM was established in 1815. It is the oldest and the largest in the World, Twenty-five Million pounds being yearly produced. (25,000,000.)

Our SEMOLINA is the staple food in France, Russia, Spain, Italy, &c., and will soon be that of England. It has obtained 24 PRIZE MEDALS in the Great Exhibitions for its superiority over all others, and is pronounced by the most eminent members of the Medical Profession, both in London and in Paris, to be far more Nutritious than Tapioca. Arrowroot, corn flour (which are only Starch), or any farinaceous food already introduced into this country. See Dr. Hassali's Analytical Report in the columns of this paper.

N.B.—Being determined to maintain its reputation, we again CAUTION the Public, that an imitation, to which a false and ridiculous name has been given, is introduced by a well known Firm, taking advantage of its name and publicity to sell a similar article of very inferior quality, to realise extra profits, and who advertise in favour of that article the qualities possessed by our Semolina.

As a proof of our assertion we challenge a comparison, by analysis, between our SEMOLINNA and the so-called Pearlina.

GRAND HARMONIUMS FOR MASONIC LODGES.

THE "OBERON" HARMONIUM.

"A dwelling-place
For all sweet sounds and harmonies."—WORDSWORTH.

THE value of Musical Instruments lies in quality. These Harmoniums are delicately voiced, and will speak to the least breath of wind, giving their full harmonies as equally prompt as the lightest strains of melody; clearness of touch, as in the piano, is attained, and the merriest of dance tunes may be played with no ack of sprightliness and celerity. The quality of tone is rich and bright, yielding full, sustained, and sonorous harmonies.

The diapason character of the "Oberon" Harmonium is thoroughly in sympathy with the timbre of the English voice, and affords an admirable support both in solo and in choral singing.

Novel in style and construction, and elegant in design. Pedal Harmoniums built to specification.

Instruments specially prepared for India, with makegany sound-boards, and every care in providing for the get-at-able-ness of all the interior arrangements.

RELIGIOUS ASPECTS OF FREEMASONRY.

NO. I.-FREEMASONRY & CHRISTIANITY.

By BRO. WILLIAM JAMES HUGHAN, P.M. 131, Provincial Grand Secretary Cornwall, &c.

Of late, lengthy discussions have been conducted by brethren in the pages of Masonic magazines on the religious aspects of Freemasonry, both at home and abroad. Some are firm believers in Freemasonry being Christian even at the present day, while others are so strongly opposed to its being a religious institution at all that they actually advocate the removal of the Volume of the Sacred Law from the Master's pedestal, and the substitution of the Book of Constitutions in lieu thereof! It would be a mistake to suppose that the former only number among their ranks the Christians who adorn our Fraternity, for among the latter there are many brethren who make a profession of Christianity, and what is more, practise its glorious precepts of Faith, Hope, and Charity.

The differences of opinion arise from contrary views of the character of Freemasonry; and the errors of judgment, we think, is a consequence of confounding the scope of the Society with its origin or nature. We neither accept the narrow belief of those who would restrict membership of our Crast to Christians, nor do we share the opinion of some who think that Freemasonry would be advanced by the removal of the Holy Bible from the lodge; and for the following reasons :-

I. Freemasonry, as a guild, had a Christian origin. We presume this will not be doubted; but as we do not enter on the inquiry in a disputatious mood, but simply as a humble student desirous of stating the result of his researches and of expressing his fears of the revolutionary tendencies of some Masons equally earnest as himself to

Masonry, we will glance a little at the evidences for the assertion made. All the old Constitutions confirm the fact, and recognise Christianity. The old Rules at York, A.D. 1370, speak of "He Goddy's Malyon and Saynt Petirs." The MS. in the British Museum, Bib. Reg. 17 A.I., f. 32, 14th or 15th century, says as follows:-

"Plures Constituciones
"That whose wol conne thys Craft and come to a state He most love wel God, and holy churche algate."

" ars quatuor coronatorum. "Suche mawmetys he hade yn hys dawe, To tume the pepul from Crystus lawe, But they were stedefast yn Cryste's lay And to here craft, withouten may

So he dede that tyme other also,
Of dyvers craftes mony mo.
Through hye grace of Crist yn heven
He commensed yn the Syens seven.
* * * *

And when thou herest the belle rynge And when thou herest the belle ryng. To that holy sakerynge
Knele ze most, both zynge and olde
And bothe yor hondes fayr upholde
And say thenne yn this manere
Fayr and softe, without bere—
' Jhesu Lord, welcome thou be,
 Yn forme of bred, as y the se'.
 Now, Jhesu, for thyn holy name
Schulde me from synne and soba

Schulde me from synne and schame."

There are many instances more in the same MS. as the foregoing. The next oldest is "Add. MS. No. 23, 198," late in the 15th century (in British Museum):—

" but behoveth hem fyrst princypally to God and holy church & all halowis and his mastr. and his felowes as his aine brotheryn."

The Harleian, Sloane, and Lansdown MSS. in the British Museum, containing the old charges of the 17th century, commence with an invocation to the "Holy and undivided Trinity" much as follows:-

"The myght of the Father of Heaven With ye wisdome of the glorious Son Through the goodness of the Holy Ghost Yt be three in one God, &c. Be with us att our beginning
And give us grace so to govern us in our living
Yt we may come to His bliss
That ne'er shall have ending."

Sloane MSS. 3323, f. 209, A.D. 1659.

The commencement of the Rawlinson, York, and Scotch MSS. agree almost verbally with the foregoing, and contain so many references to Christianity that the recognition of that religion by our ancient brethren must be accepted as a fact. The Fraternity were to be "True to the wholy Church." The initiates were sworn upon "The wholy Scripture," and the "Helpe of God" was invoked during the obligation.

The Constitutions of Edinburgh-Kilwinning of about 1670 conclude thus:-

"These charges that wee have now rehearsed unto yow, and all others that belongeth to Massons, yow shall keep, so help yow God and your haly-

In the readable "Recollections of the Lodge at Thornhill," Bro. D. Murray Lyon observes as follows:--

"Theism is said to be the religion of Free-masonry. Theoretically this may be so; but, in practice, the Kilwinning Fraternity ignore this cosmopolitan characteristic of the Order, and sub-stitute in its stead a feature (not, however, till after the initiate has crossed the threshold of the lodge) which effectually debars Turk or Jew from a full Aceticidation in their mork." participation in their work."

We object to such an exclusiveness in the present era of Freemasonry, and strongly believe in admitting to our mysteries neophytes irrespective of their creed, colour, or clime, so long as otherwise they uphold what they believe to be genuine are worthy. This broad view, however, is not shared generally by many belonging to the old lodges in Scotland even now. That it was Christian only early in the last century, and before then, we take it as proved. The past we cannot alter; but, surely, the present being in our own hands, we can open wide the threshold of the Craft to good and virtuous men, whether Jews, Turks, or Christians. Bro. D. Murray Lyon further states (in confirmation of our first proposition)-

That the Eglinton MS. "held the Wardens of lodges answerable to the Presbytery for all offensis committed by the 'maissons subject to the ludgis' over which they were placed; and to the Deacon and Warden of Kilwinning was it 'given'... to put forth of their societie and cumpany.... all persoins disobedient ather ta the Kirk, Craft, Counsall, &c."

This MS. is dated 1599. There is a MS. in the archives of Mother Lodge Kilwinning of about A.D. 1670. Bro. Lyon informs me that the following sentence in the charges to Prentices embraced in this MS. clearly shows the Roman Catholic faith to have been that of the Craftsmen to whom the Mason oath was administered prior to the Reformation:

"That you shill be a trew man to God and the Holy Church, and that you use no heresie nor error, to your understanding or discredit man's teaching.
. . . . So help me God and the Holy Dame."

The commencement of this old manuscript is as follows:

"The might of the Father of Heavin
And the wisedom of the Glorious Sonne
Through the grace and goodness of the Holy Ghost

That been three persons and one God Be with at our beginning, and give us grace for to govern us here in our living That wee may come to his bliss that never shall have ending. Amen.

In the "Laws and Acts of Parliament" (Edinburgh, 1682) we read that the sums of money

"Imployed by any corporation, guild, fraternity, company, or fellowship of any mystery, towards the maintenance of any priest, anniversary, obit, lamp, light or the like"

had to be "paid yearly as a rentcharge to the King."

The Constitutions of the German Masons of Strasbourg, according to our friend Bro. Findel, provide that "No Craftsmen or Master shall be received in the Fraternity who goes not early to the Holy Communion, or who keeps not Christian discipline" (A.D. 1459).

But enough has been said to prove Freemasonry was Christian before the 18th century. From A.D. 1716, and mostly throughout that century, it was Christian in its character and ceremonies. Of this we have many proofs—a few of which will now be presented. The first printed work that was issued after the "Revival" on Masonry was the "Operative Constitutions of A.D. 1722;" the only copy we know of being in the possession of Bro. R. Spencer, London. It commences thus:

"The Almighty Father of Heaven, with the wisdom of the Glorious Son, thro' the Goodness of the Holy Ghost, Three Persons in one Godhead, be with our Beginning, and give us his Grace so to govern our lives, that we may come to his Bliss, that never shall have end. Amen."

The next printed work published was the one of A.D. 1723, viz., "Constitutions of the Grand Lodge of England." In this volume will be found a number of charges purporting to be extracted from the "Ancient Records of Lodges Beyond Sea, and of Those in England, Scotland, and Ireland." It is a curious fact that these charges were in reality a compilation of the Rev. Dr. James Anderson, from various documents; but in such a free manner that in many respects in their new garb they are quite the opposite to the originals. These charges by the Rev. Dr. Anderson have never been surpassed for simplicity, beauty, and universality by any ritual-makers since, and deserve to be held in high esteem by the Craft now, as in the past. But we are certain that the same liberal spirit did not actuate the members of the lodges, nor did the brethren who added to our ceremonies after the Revival dispense with the Christian references in the ceremonies of the Craft. Much of the old rituals were quite unsuitable to be worked before or by any but Christians, and the earliest rituals are palpably Christian. The ancient Sloane MS. 3329, f. 142, declares "He yt was caryed to ye highest pinnicall of the temple of Jerusalom" to be greater than a Freemason. "The Holy Chapell of St. John" is mentioned, and the asseveration "So help you God, and by the contents of this book" concludes the MS.

But we need not particularize on this head, as all conversant with the rituals of Freemasonry during the last century will be aware of their Christian tendency. Since the "Union of A.D. 1813" a more general arrangement of the rituals has taken place, and the members of the Fraternity of the present day are alive to the claims of the Institution as respects its universality. Indeed, unless as an unsectarian Society, it could not possibly succeed in its exalted mission, and hence we strongly believe in the friends of the Order who endeavoured to so alter the ceremonial parts of the reception of candidates as to permit of "Jews, Turks, and Christians" being admitted on an equitable equality, and in the most fraternal spirit. Even now, however, the observant Mason can detect references which certainly may be traced to Christianity; and we hope no religionist will complain if such suits not his views, as it is wholly impossible to utterly obliterate Christian and Jewish explanations in the rituals, without creating an entirely new institution. As Christians, we now hold out the right hand of fellowship to men of all religions and creeds who believe in God, the Creator of the Universe, and in future rewards and punishments, and are glad to see them joining the Masonic Order, if otherwise worthy. On this broad basis we think we shall be excused in maintaining that Freemasonry had a Christian origin, and still perpetuates the evidences of such a birth, although to promote "Peace on earth and goodwill towards men," its votaries are now content by simply acknowledging these facts, and recognise beyond all sectarian differences and bickerings that, in the liberal and universal sense in which our ceremonies must be understood, all religionists are eligible for admission into our Order if they believe in God and practise the sacred duties of morality.

ENCYCLOPEDIA METROPOLITANA.

By Bro. C. G. Forsyth.

Col. Todd mentions its existence on large blocks of the walls at Mundore, and on some ancient medals in his possession, dug up at Oogein, containing the symbols of the twentyfour zain apostles. (They occur also in many of our own Gothic buildings, as, for instance, in the Abbey Gate at Bury St. Edmunds, erected about 1377.) In a representation of Diana of Ephesus joined with Isis and Seraphis, it appears over the right shoulder of Seraphis; it is afterwards found with many other Masonic emblems among the Templars. Many of the ancient statues of the heathen divinities discovered in Egypt, Greece, Persia, and Hindustan, also in America, are decorated with superb appropriate and the Levitical priesthood, we are informed, wore girdles or aprons composed of the three colours, blue, crimson, and purple; but the Freemason may find a more recent and more probable origin for their decorated vesture in the eathern aprons of their operative brethren. The Egyptian mysteries were among the most celebrated; the priests, especially at Memphis and Heliopolis, were noted for their learning. In consequence of their repute, many philosophers and persons of rank from all nations sought to be initiated, and afterwards introduced some of the peculiar rites into their own countries. Thus Lycurgus, Solon, Pythagoras, and others, intermingled them with their own doctrines. Moses is said to have been initiated, and to have applied in the worship of the true God such forms as he thought might be useful for the conduct of the Levites, establishing at the same time certain proofs in order to keep them more distinct from the rest of the people, which proofs are supposed to have existed undivulged until the time of King Solomon, and, indeed, until the troubles of the Jews commenced, when they became partly known to the conquerors. Among the Druids, the priesthood of the Celtic nation we find similar rites, secret probations and obligations to secrecy, with hidden doctrines similar to those of the Magi, the Gymnosophists, the Brahmins, the Chaldæans, and the priests of Egypt. The same may be traced in the rites of Vitzliputzli in Mexico, and Pacha Camai in Peru. From Egypt the religious mysteries would naturally travel to Greece with the earliest colonisers, or would soon follow them. The celebrated mysteries established at Eleusis in great splendour in the reign of Erichthonius, the year B.C. 1500, are better known to us than any other, in consequence of the numerous allusions to them in different old writings. They were afterwards carried to Rome, where they flourished until suppressed by Theodosius the Great in the beginning of the fifth century; but so popular were they even after that time, that traces of them were to be discovered. In all cases, the candidate had to undergo severe and lengthened trials, sometimes even death ensued. At the commencement of his probation, he was purified by ablution, and admonished to lead life, founded on the strictest rules of virtue. He was led in darkness through winding avenues, with gloomy recesses, and startled at every step by terrific noises—the howlings of wild beasts, the hissing of serpents, and other strange cries. His resolution was put to the proof by the infliction of bodily suffering. According to Ter-tullian, a drawn sword was opposed to him on his entrance into the Mythriae cavern, from which he occasionally received wounds—his progress was fearful, through night and darkness. Voices heard, now whispering, now bursting into thunder. Intermitent flashes of tremulous light exposed to his affrighted view scowling faces and terrible spectres; sounds of grief and lamentation for the departed God were heard, and as the time of probation (which was sometimes protracted at intervals for many days) drew to a close, the severity of his trials increased. The earth quaked beneath his feet, and he was left apparently suspended over an abyss. Sometimes he underwent a symbolical death in a bed or coffin, and after a certain time was raised therefrom to participate in their mysteries. Arrived at the confines of death, t candidate was hurried rapidly through the tri of the four elements. At length, when just e hausted, he received the reward of his coura and perseverance; his persecutions soft sounds with melodious symphonies we heard, and the gloom of night gradually dipersing, fair groves and flowery plains were diclosed to view. The gates of the inmo sanctuary were opened to him; he was admitted to the sight of celestial beauty in all tl dazzling splendour of its perfection, and behe the sun shine with meridian lustre, even in the middle of the night. He was crowned ar clothed with a white garment, various symbo were explained to him, and he was final declared to be born again and made pe fect, and distributions with the formula—Kon Omphax. These words formerly considere inexplicable are now ascertained to be Sanscri and are still used by the Brahmins at the conclusion of their religious ceremonie they should be expressed Kamska Om Paksh The first is the most ardent vows, Om is the mysterious name of the Deity, Paksha mear change, turn, vicissitude, &c. The foregoing description of initiation has chiefly reference to The foregoing the Elusianian mysteries of which we have fulle accounts extant than of any other, but wherever we have records of, or allusions to others, we find the same similarity. The Pyramids with many celebrated caves, as that of Trophonosiu have been considered as the scenes of initiation and there is said to have been a large cave a Eleusis, but frequently the necessary apparatus and chambers were attached to and perhaps underneath the Temples, the severest penalties were denounced against a breach of the obliga-tions to secrecy, and Ovid is thought by some to have been banished upon mere suspicion of having encroached too much upon the Elusinian naving encroached too much upon the Elusinian secret in the fiteenth book of his "Metamorphosis." In many of the religious cere monies, the initiated were finally entrusted with a mysterious word having reference to the Supreme Being or Onmipotence. The Egyptian word was On; that of the Hindoos Om, compressed from the Arilateral word Aum, representing the greating preserving and destroying senting the creating, preserving, and destroying powers of the Deity, and typifying therefore the Indian trinity, Brahma, Vishnu and Siva. The Chinese, Japanese and Ceylonese, who practised Budhism used the word O-Mi-To-Fo to signify Omnipotence. The sacred term of the Thibetians was Om-ha, hum the Druids, the sacred name in a manner known only to them selves, but used the letters O. J. W. The mysterious name of some of the North American Indians is curious from its similarity to that of They call their supreme god Ishto the Jews. hoollo, but they have also a tetragammaton never used in common speech, compounded of four notes and confined to their most sacred ceremonies. It consists of the syllables Ya, O, He, Wah, thus composing the word Yo-he-wah. With the mysteries were subequently connected with the Dionysaic artificiers, body of scientific men, architects and engineers, the claimed the exclusive right of building emples, theatres and other public edifices, much the same manner as trading Freemasons in the after ages endeavoured to monopolise the milding of cathedrals and conventual edifices. Their chief mysteries and most important secrets were comprised in the mechanical and mathematical sciences. The temples of their gods and their theatres required an immense apparatus of machinery for some of their mysteries. At the time of the migration from Attica to Ionia about Solomon's Temple, the Dionysiac artificiers had attained to a considerable reputation and had spread through a considerable part of Asia, and even to India. In order to distinguish them as a body and to preserve inviolate the peculiar screts of their science, they had appropriate sons and symbols, taken most probably from those mysteries with which they were so intimawork, they are supposed to have formed into what we should now call lodges, each having its Master, with his assistants or Wardens. The poor brethren of the Order were relieved or employed, and in many respects their institutions remind us of the Freemasons of the middle VAUDEVILLE THEATRE. -- Bro. Thomas Thorne announces his benefit for Saturday evening, the 7th inst., (to-night), when the "Two Roses" will be performed for the 187th time, to be followed by Mr. Byton's burlesque of "Ill-Treated Il Trovatore," by permission of Mr. Webster,) and, for the 115th time, the farce of "Chiselling." We are sure he will have a bumper.

HAYMARKET THEATRE.—Mr. Buckstone continues to draw a full house every evening. He produces O'Keefe's musical piece "The Poor Soldier," the comedy of "The Palace of Truth," the comedietta of "Uncle's Will," and concludes with the "The Spectre Bridegroom." The performances as is usual here go off admirably, and a host of admirers welcome the appearance of Mr. Buckstone. It is sufficient to state, he is supported by Messrs. Kendal, Everill, Clark, Braid, Buckstone, jun., and Rogers; Mesdames Robertson, Chippendale, C. Hill, F. Wright and Fanny Gwynne, to ensure all visitors that they will have a good evening's amusement if they patronise this fashionable theatre. HAYMARKET THEATRE.-Mr. Buckstone cor Lodge of Temperance, No. 169.—The usual monthly meeting of this lodge was held on Thursday evening, the 15th ult., at the White Horse Tavern, Deptford, and was numerously attended. Bro. John Thomas Moss, W.M., presided, assisted by the officers. After the minutes of the lodge had been read and confirmed, the brethren proceeded to the election of a W.M. for the ensuing year, and the choice of the brethren fell upon Bro. Alfred Pulley, S.W., by an unanimous vote. Bro. J. W. Barrett, P.M., was re-elected Treasurer. Upon the motion of Bro. Pulley, S.W., seconded by Bro. Marshall, J.W., and carried unanimously, a jewel of the value of five guineas was voted to Bro. John Thomas Moss, the retiring W.M., and after the appointing of a day for auditing the accounts, the lodge was closed, when the brethren adjourned to refreshment. The W.M., Bro. John Thomas Moss, quickly disposed of the usual loyal and Masonic toasts. Bro. George Brown, P.M., proposed "The W.M.," which was received with more than usual applause.—The W.M., in acknowledging the compliment, said if he had done his duty to the satisfaction of the lodge, he was amply repaid, and he thanked the officers, especially the P.M.'s, for the assistance they had rendered him during his year of office.—The W.M., in most suitable terms, proposed "The health of the W.M.-elect, Bro. Alfred Pulley," and expressed the satisfaction it gave him and the brethren of the lodge on his election.—Bro. Alfred Pulley replied in one of those bursts of enthusiasm for which he is famous, and the brethren shortly afterwards separated.

Wheeler received his second degree, and Bros. Morrison and Roberts obtained their rank of M.M. This being the evening for electing officers for the ensuing year, the brethren were pleased to elect Bro. Adkin, the S.W., as W.M. Bro. Rawley, P.M., was re-elected as Treasurer, and Bro. Thompson, Tyler. The business of the evening being ended, the brethren adjourned to refreshment. On the removal of the cloth, the usual loyal and Masonic toasts were given with delightful brevity. To "The health of the Visitors," Bro. D. Davis (141) replied. "The health of the W.M." was proposed by Bro. Lacey, I.P.M., in most kindly terms, to which the W.M. briefly responded. Bro. Lacey also responded to the toast for the P.M.'s. "The Prosperity of the Masonic Institutions" was then proposed by Bro. Barlow, P.M. He stated that the Lodge of Sincerity had voted £5 5s. to be placed on Bro. Rawley's list, who is standing Steward for the Aged Freemasons' Institution at their next festival, and he trusted the brethren would, by their liberality, make it as imposing a list of subscriptions as any that may be sent up.—"The health of the W.M.-elect" being the next toast on the programme, was proposed, and very cordially received.—Bro. Adkins, in reply, hoped to be able to perform the duties of the high office to which he had been elected with the same efficiency that had distinguished his predecessors. After the health of the rest of the officers had been proposed and responded to, the Tyler's toast terminated the proceedings. During the evening the brethren were entertained with songs by Bros. M. Davis and Atkins, and a recitation very effectively given by Bro. D. Davis, It should also be mentioned that various sums were subscribed by the brethren to assist three widows of former brethren of the lodge.

SOUTHEND—Priory Ladge, No. 1000.—The usual monthly meeting of the members of this lodge recently took place at the Middleton Hotel, and from the fact of Bro. S. J. Girling having notified his intention of presenting the lodge with a banner on this occasion, there was a larger number of brethren present than at any previous ordinary meeting. The W.M., Bro. B. Notley, R.A., took the chair, supported by his officers as follows:—Bros. Etham, S.W.; Wardell, J.W.; Wood, P.M., Treas.; Cox, I.P.M., S.c.; Rowley, P.M.; Phillips, D.C.; Barton, Org.; Hermann, S.D.; Lucking, J.D.; Glasscock, I.G. The lodge having been duly opened and the preliminary business transacted, Bro. John Whitfield was raised to the sublime degree of M. This done, the following gentlemen were balloted for, approved, and initiated in order:—Messrs. Joseph Naylor, Robert McGregor, Lamuel W. Thompson, and Alfred James. The whole of the work was admirably performed. Bro. Girling then rose and performed the promise which he had made at the last meeting, by presenting the lodge with a very handsome banner, and, in the course of a speech which was listened to with breathless silence, said he had but one motive in doing so, which was to mark his high appreciation of the glorious principles of Freemasonry. He spoke at considerable length upon the pleasure he experienced on his admission to the lodge, the deep impression which had been left on his mind by the moral principles contained in the solemn ceremonics of Masonry, and the brotherly love evinced towards him by every member of the lodge since his initiation. He felt highly pleased to see the love and harmony ever the predominant feeling prevailing in the lodge, and trusted that nothing would ever arise to disturb the excellent feeling which existed now, but that it would continue to bendure for many years to come. In concluding his speech he Bros Ekham and Frost regretted having to defer the preentation of a carpet in consequence of the manufacture failing to fulfil his engagement, but hoped to do so a the next meeting. Five gentlemen calculated to mainain the prestige and prosperity of the lodge, were proposed by Bro. Girling as candidates for Freemasonry. No year has been crowned with greater success than that which has just closed under the rule of Bro. Notley, W.M., and seldom can be witnessed more harmonious working than that which has characterised the Priory Lodge during his Mastership. The brethren subsequently adjourned to refreshment, the usual loyal and Masonic toats were given, interspersed with some excellent vocal and instrumental music, under the able presidency of Bro. CALCUTTA.—The Holy Cross Conclave.—A preliminary meeting for establishing in Calcutta the Holy Cross Conclave of Knights of the Imperial, Ecclesiastical and Military Order of the Red Cross of Rome and Constantine, was held at the rooms, 8, Waterloo-street, on the evening of Friday, the 23rd of November last, when the Acting Inspector-General for Bengal, Eminent Sir Knt. William Osmond Allender, under dispensation and by authority from the Grand Imperial Council of the Order in England, assisted by Em. Sir Knt. J. L. Taylor, Past Honorary Sovereign of the St. Helena Conclave, created and installed the following Sir Knights, viz.: W. F. Westfield, J. R. Alexander D'Cruz, O. B. Andrews, A. B. Mitchell, D. McGregor, J. P. Hubbard, R. Hendry, Adolph Friedemann, Whitmore Girling, W. A. Holton and George Lambert. At the conclusion of the ceremony, a petition to the Grand Imperial Council of England, praying for a Charter of Constitution was signed. By votes unanimously declared by the Sir Knights present, E. Sir Knt. Isaiah Lawrence Taylor was elected as Sovereign, and E. Sir Knt. William Francis Westfield, as the Viceroy to the Conclave for the ensuing year, and who were respectively placed in their chairs by E. Sir Knt. Allender. The following appointments were then made:—Sir Knts. J. R. Alex. D'Cruz, Recorder; W. A. Holton, Treas.; O. B. Andrews, Senior General; A. B. Mitchell, Junior General; D. McGregor, Prefect; A. Friedemann, Herald; Whitmore Girling, Standard-Bearer. After recording a vote of thanks to Sir Knt. Allender for the interest he had taken in the introduction of the Order in Calcutta, the Sir Knights closed this meeting.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

Mount Calvary or Early Grand Encampment of England.—A meeting of this old Encampment was held on Thursday, the 8th ult., at Freemasons' Hall, when Sir Knts. J. G. Chancellor, E.C.; F. Binckes, P.E.C.; W. Stone, E.C.-elect; S. Rosenthal, 2nd Capt.; D. M. Dewar, Prelate; W. Paas, Treas.; R. Wentworth Little, as Capt of Lines, were present amongst others. Comp. Charles Webster Wilmot was installed as a Knight Templar, the ceremony being ably rendered by Sir Knt. Binckes, after which a Priory of the Order of Malta was opened, when Sir Knts. Little and Wilmot were readmitted and received as Knights of that venerable Order. The Priory and Encampment having been closed, the fratres separated.

MASONIC ORDERS in ENG-LAND.

AT the commencement of a new year it may not be amiss to look around us, and consider for a moment the actual position and future prospects of Freemasonry in England. There cannot be a doubt that the Order never was so powerful as it is at present, and we do not allude to mere numbers, but to the influence which it exercises over a vast array of intelligent men. We are also inclined to believe that a larger per-centage of really desirable candidates have of late years been added to the muster-roll of the Craft. We have literary lodges, like the "Urban," holden at that quaint old hostelry, the Jerusalem Tavern, St. John's Gate; and we have musical lodges, like that of the "Asaph," where brethren of eminence in the inspiring art of which St. Cecilia is the tutelary deity, are enabled to conduct the ceremonies of Freemasonry with great ability and success. Again, the martial element is represented by the "Fitzroy" and the "Macdonald;" while those who plough the ocean waves are found in the "Merchant Navy" and other maritime lodges at the East end. Congenial fellowship-a great desideratum in life-is therefore attainable by men of the most varied habits and pursuits, and it is, we are satisfied, a very wise and graceful policy to encourage the formation of lodges for all sections of the community, especially for the professional classes, who are in general animated by a commendable esprit de corps It is estimated that about eight thousand initiates swell the ranks of English Masonry every year, and this rate of increase is likely to continue, provided no calamity, such as war, should intervene. Fifty new lodges are also annually added to the Grand Lodge roll, and these, of course, in due time augment materially the numerical strength of the Fraternity. Royal Arch Masonry, as we took occasion to remark some time ago, is also in a very flourishing condition, and its adherents are rapidly increasing, the number of new chapters granted each year averaging fifteen. The sum total of Craft lodges actually working and in good order is 1250, and the Royal Arch Chapters number 380.

We now come to what are termed the unrecognised degrees, and during the past year we find that the "Mark" Degree has outstripped all its competitors, and is now second only to the Craft and Royal Arch Masonry in prestige and importance. This is mainly due to the untiring energy of the Most Worshipful Bro. Portal, whose career as Grand Mark Master has been an uninterrupted series of successes. that we ignore the valued services of the distinguished brethren who preceded him in his high office-on the contrary, each and all have afforded him the most loyal and cordial support—but the fact cannot be gainsaid that with the zeal of an apostle, Bro. Portal combines those rare faculties of mind which at once attest a man's claim to rule and direct his fellows. The Mark Grand Lodge has now about 120 lodges under its jurisdiction, and its constituents are to be found in nearly all the foreign and colonial possessions of England. We are also glad to state that, with a wise prevision, it has been arranged that all the allied or kindred degrees, such as the Most Excellent Masters and the Royal Ark Mariners, shall be worked under the authority of the Mark Grand Lodge, and by the adoption of this course the multiplication of supreme Masonic bodies has been very properly pre-

The Order of the Temple comes next to the Mark in strength, numbering as it does about 110 encampments. The Knights Templar do not, however, increase very rapidly, but as their executive department is extremely well managed, we may fairly anticipate that they will hold their ownfor a long time to come amongst the various branches of the Masonic Brotherhood.

The Order of the Red Cross of Constantine, although, as a revived body, the youngest of the Masonic organisations in England, has already outstripped the Ancient and Accepted Rite in the number of subordinate conclaves on its roll, which can now boast of no less than 40. This result may also, as we stated of the Mark Degree, be attributed to the great zeal and activity shown by the leading members of the Order, who have never wavered in their determination to set its claims and merits fairly before the Craft. The Red Cross Order likewise possesses the great advantage of having at its head a young and popular nobleman like Lord Bective, lately and better known as Lord Kenlis, aided as he has been by such good Masons as Sir Frederick M. Williams, Colonel Burdett, and John Hervey. Under their auspices the Order cannot fail to flourish, and it bids fair to assume a very high position in the estimation of the Masonic world.

The Rite of Misraim has been recently annexed to the Red Cross Order, chiefly, as we are informed, to prevent its establishment as an independent jurisdiction, an idea which it seems was seriously entertained by awell-known metropolitan brother. The last great Masonic power is the Ancient and Accepted Rite, and this branch of Masonry has also made some progress during the past year, the number of Rose Croix Chapters working under the Supreme Of the primary Council being now 34. degrees of this Rite we have already spoken in THE FREEMASON, and intend continuing our remarks upon the higher grades at a suitable opportunity. We shall also glance. at the peculiar mode of government which prevails in the Rite, and compare it with the systems which obtain in other Masonic bodies.

Having thus hastily surveyed the position of the various Orders which are allied to the English Craft, we may next enquire whether the growth and extension of "fancy' degrees, as they are sometimes termed, are really matters for congratulation. Many brethren, we know, will at once answer in the negative, and contend that nothing but Masonry pure and undefiled should be cultivated. It is, however, well to bear in mind that without these degrees many estimable Masons would be entirely lost to the Order, and if such men take an interest in the ceremonies of the high grades, their opinions upon the subject are entitled to respect. We cannot ignore the evident truth, that if brethren desire to enter those branches of the mystic art, they will not be deterred by dogmatic assertions of the superiority of Blue Masonry. Even in republican America they have quite as many Masonic organisations as we have at present in England. A Grand Lodge, a Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masonry, a Council of Royal and Select Masters, a Grand Encampment of Knights Templar, and Council of the 33°, all flourish in the States. Let every man exercise his own judgment, and provided the paramount claims of the Craft are not neglected, we are quite prepared to say that he may join all the Knightly or Sovereign Orders in existence. But the duties inculcated in the "Three Degrees" are in reality the foundation and glory of Freemasonry, and the principles which should guide our conduct through life must ever be those taught at our initiation—" Brotherly Love, Relief, and Truth."

THE DATE OF SPECULATIVE MASONRY.

At page 685, Bro. C. G. Forsyth has the following passage:—"But it appears that Speculative Masonry—to which alone 'Freemasonry' is now applied—was scarcely known before the time of Sir Christopher Wren, and that it was engrafted upon Operative Masonry," &c. Will Bro. Forsyth kindly say whether this alludes to the period of Wren's birth (1632), or his death (1723), and how it so appears?

ALFRED NUTT'S CANDIDATURE.

I am very glad to notice the advertisement in THE FREEMASON of to-day respecting the above, as his case has only to be generally known to secure election. In fact, I am persuaded that, were the Craft brought acquainted with all the circumstances of the case, the late respected Bro. John Nutt's son would be an inmate of the Royal Masonic Institution for Boys from the April election. The father was a contributor to the Craft—a generous supporter, in fact—for upwards of twenty years, I believe; and it was only through misfortune—and that entirely mavoidable and unforeseen—that his decease left a widow and five children totally unprovided for. The little son of the afflicted widow has already received 579 votes in his favour, and though I do not wish to prevent any other candidate being successful, I do say that few, if any, have greater claims on the subscribers for election than has Alfred Nutt. The support of Bro. William Kelly, Prov. G.M. Leicestershire and Rutland, ought to ensure a satisfactory result—the province, however, is small, and hence appeals to the Craft.

W. James Hughan. Truro, Cornwall, 31st Dec., 1870.

MASONIC MSS.

At page 657 "A Masonic Student" says: "I am, I confess, much astonished to see that Bro. Buchan again ventures to fix the date of the 'Halliwell MS.' at 1500. If there is one the 'Halliwell MS.' at 1500. If there is one point more clear than another, it is that that MS. belongs to the close of the 14th century—from 1370 to 1400." Now, there are two mistakes here. First, I did not say "at 1500," for, as per page 642, I said, "between 1400 and 1500, or near 1500;" and second, I consider that it is not "clear" that this "Halliwell MS." is between "1370 to 1400," for Mr. Bond, keeper of the MSS. British Museum, informed me that it was "of the middle of the 15th century." And Dr. Kloss also places it in the filtenth century. So that I fear "A Masonic fiftenth century. So that I fear "A Masonic Student" is wrong upon this point, as I greatly fear he also is upon several others.

I shall give some remarks upon Masonic MSS. in a week or two, if spared to do so.

SOLOMON'S TEMPLE AND A GOTHIC CATHEDRAL. At page 653, first column, a remark is made upon this subject, Now at page 451 of The Building News, of 16th inst., it is stated that a. Roman basilica exists at Treves, and "in it we have the type after which the earliest Christian churches were built; and, indeed, it was simply by modifications of, and improvements upon, these basilica that the mediæval architects arrived at their noble cathedrals. W. P. B.

HEBREW POETRY.

It is worthy of remark that Hebrew poetry, notwithstanding its grandeur and the lofty tone of exaltation to which it is often elevated, by the charm of music scarcely ever loses the restrains of measure, as does the poetry of India. Devoted to the pure contemplation of the Divinity, it remains clear and simple in the midst of the most figurative forms of expression, delighting in comparisons which recur with almost rhythmical regularity. The poetical literature of the Hebrews is not deficient in variety of form; for while Hebrew poetry breathes a tone of warlike enthusiasm from Joshua to Samuel, the little book of the gleaner, Ruth, presents us with a charming and exquisitely simple picture of Nature. Goethe speaks of it as "the loveliest specimen of epic and ideal poetry which we possess."— Ĥumboldt.

The Statute of Labourers, 25 Edw. III., stat. 1., cap. iii., enacts as follows:

" Item qe carpenters masons teglers & autres coverours des mesons ne preignent le jour pur lour overeygne forsgeen manere come ils soloient cest assaver mestre carpenter iii d. & autre ii d. mestre mason de franche peer iv d. & autre mason iii d. & lour servantz i d. ob. teguler iii d. & son garceon i d. ob. & autre coverour de ros & estreyin iii d. & son garceon i d. ob."

Does not the above designation "Master Mason of Free Stone" solve the question as to the derivation of the prefix "Free" in "Free Mason"?

AFTER-DINNER ORATIONS.

By W. H. P.

The second great consideration was to conciliate the brethren owing allegiance to Scotland, so as to induce them readily to join the ranks of the Grand Mark Lodge, when the time arrived that Scotlaud surrendered her authority over them. This was also done mainly by the untiring and self-sacrificing zeal of one to whom this Grand Mark Lodge owe a deep and lasting debt of gratitude-Bro. Frederick Binckes, who is thoroughly appreciated and liked in

A great deal is also due to the gentlemanly courtesy shown on all occasions by the English Provincial G.M.M., Bro. W. R. Callender, jun., S.G.D. England.

 Although many of us believe that an obligation willingly entered into is binding until a release is given, still several of the brethren (Scottish) attended the Provincial G.M. Lodge held at Manchester, for the purpose of showing their respect to Bro. Callender.

We are informed, their presence was acknowledged most gracefully by that brother, and sincere and hearty aspirations for union prevailed. This is what Bro. Portal is pleased to call "the great raid on Scottish Mark Masonry," surely a term more applicable to the Border Warfare of our semi-civilised forefathers than to a friendly re-union of brethren bound by one common-tie, and having one common purpose.

He says, "We showed the Scottish Mark Masters conclusively how hopeless it was to think they could hold their ground in Lancashire." Well, it may he so; we have held our ground for a good man years now, and were quite content togo on in our Philistine indifference to the Grand Lodge of Mark Masters, which we can remember was for some time called the "Bon Accord Lodge," exalted on a pedestal of its own manufacture.

We held our ground in Lancashire when the St. John's Lodge of Bolton had candidates from far and near, having advanced among others the English Prov. G.M.M., the D. Prov. G.M.M., the Prov. S.W., the Prov. G.M.O. and J.O., the Prov. G.S.D. and J.D. There was no lodge then holding from the self-exalted Bon Accord. Certainly several autonomous lodges were in existence; some still survive the infliction of the London Body on the degree, some have been absorbed.

Our organisation in Lancashire is complete, we increase in strength and numbers daily, and we only wish to be let alone. Our wants are few, our income is sufficient, but we have none to spare for London men and mendi:

Bro. Portal tells us the "raid of Lancashire," or to be locally correct, so as to enable the historians of the future to chronicle this hostile advance, the "raid" of Manchester, was the great inducement for the Supreme Chapter of Scotland to "come to terms."

The rev. brother must surely be speaking off his book; the conference was agreed to before even the Provincial Grand Mark Master was appointed, but the Supreme Chapter has not yet come to terms, nay perhaps never will. I fear Bro. Portal has been trying to induce his no doubt sympathetic audience

To swallow gudgeons ere they're catched, And count their chickens ere they're hatched.

It is no means certain, even were the Supreme Chapter of Scotland to throw us over (which we do not anticipate) that we should hand in our allegiance to the Body over which Bro. Portal presides. It would then become a question for us as to whether we would not rather preserve our autonomy, than be merged into the Grand Lodge of Mark Masters. In such case we should establish ourselves as the Grand Lodge of Mark Masters for England North of the Trent.

We do not wished to be forced into this procedure, but we certainly shall not hesitate to accept the gage of battle, which, by his ill-timed speech the Grand Mark Master has thrown at our feet.

For the sake of that love and harmony which theoretically always characterises Freemasons, we are willing to be coerced only by love, to be ruled over only by gentle treatment and delicate handling, and to submit to authority when declared constitutional, if we are treated as brethren, estranged if you will, but not hostile.

Bro. Portal cannot do better than follow the advice old Isaac Walton gives the angler, "Put the worm on the hook tenderly, and as if you loved him;" and we sincerely trust that in his next oration, whether delivered before or after dinner, he will not try to evoke that malevolent spirit of discord and antagonism which can so easily be stirred up by an insult or a slight.

We desire peace and concord, but we are equal to either fortune.

We beg to acknowledge the reports of lodges 9, 172, 188, and 192, London; 303, Teignmouth; 315, Brighton; 581, Ardwick; 995, Ulverstone; 1045, Altrincham; also several Scotchlodge reports, and other news, which will appear next week.

and other news, which will appear next week.

The audit meeting of the Domatic Lodge, No. 177, was held on Friday evening, the 23rd of December, at Anderton's Hotel, when there were present: Bros. Foulger, W.M.; Walford, W.M.-elect; J. Smith, G.P.P., Treas.; H. Thompson, M. Haydon, Brett, F. Smith, and Tanner, P.M.'s; Ferguson, J.W.; Kent, J.D. The auditors present were: Bros. R. Montagu, Kent, Ferguson, Hancock, and Charles E. Thompson, S.W. 1158, besides one or two other brethren. After the accounts had been carefully audited, it was found that there was a balance to the credit of the lodge. The manner in which the accounts and books had been kept reflected the highest credit upon Bro. Tanner, the Secretary. The business being concluded, the brethren adjourned to refreshment, and a pleasant evening was spent.

ANCIENT & PRIMITITE RITE OF MISRAIM.

As we intimated last week, the Bective Sanctuary of Levites was inaugurated on the 28th ult., by three Conservators-General of the Rite, viz., the Right Hon. the Earl of Limerick, Sigismund Rosenthal, and R. Wentworth Little. In the unavoidable absence of Colonel Francis Burdett, Dep. Sov. Grand Master, and Regent ad interim, who was unfortunately confined to his bed by a bronchial attack, the chair of H.P. was filled by Bro. Little, and Major E. Hamilton Finney was duly received as a Conservator General. The admission of Conservator General. brethren as Levites then followed, and we regret that we have not a complete list of the names, but in consequence of the very large attendance at the meeting, a considerable number of those present were unable to sign the sheets provided for that purpose, besides which one sheet is missing. However, amongst those obligated we noticed as representatives of the Premier Conclave of the Red Cross Order, Bros. W. H. Hubbard, H. Parker, G. Kenning, H. C. Levander, M.A.; G. Powell, H. G. Buss, T. Cubitt, J. Taylor, M. Edwards, T. B. Yeoman, G. A. Taylor, E. Sillifant, A. J. Codner, A. B. Donnithorne, J. G. Marsh, J. Coutts, J. W. Barrett, J. T. Moss and W. Dodd; of J. W. Barrett, J. 1. Woss and W. Dodd; of the Plantagenet Conclave, No. 2, J. Boyd, J. Brett, C. Hammerton, J. L. Thomas, E. H. Thiellay, D. R. Still and C. P. Ward, M.D.; of the Rose and Lily Conclave, No. M.D.; of the Rose and Lily Conclave, No. 3, J. Terry, W. Mann, D. D. Beck, and J. Gilbert; of the Roman Eagle Conclave, No. 6, J. Weaver, T. L. Fox, W. Carpenter, A. A. Pendlebury, W. C. Lucey, M.D., W.W. Anderson, C. P. Haigh, S. G. Foxall, W. F. N. Quilty, J. R. Foulger, W. B. Hambly and D. R. Adams; of the Villiers Conclave, No. 9, F. Walters, T. Smale, H. Allman and E. Clark; of the Mediterranean Conclave, No. 1, Captain H. Lyon Campbell, 74th Highlanders; of the St. Andrew's bell, 74th Highlanders; of the St. Andrew's Conclave, No. 15, J. Tanner, F. H. Gottlieb, J.P., W. Scott, Raynham W. Stewart, R. Kenyon, D. M. Dewar, W. J. U. Copeman, W. Roebuck, H. W. Hunt, W. Jones and W. B. Johnston; of the St. George's Conclave, No. 18, H. Thompson and E. Shaughnessy; and also Major E. H. Finney, E. H. Finney, jun., T. W. White, D. C. M. Gordon, W. Smeed and T. Lancaster, who are not members of the Red Cross Order. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the H.P. announced that with the sanction of the Earl of Bective, Grand Sovereign, the Rite would be attached to the Red Cross Order, and that his lordship had accepted the post of Sovereign Grand Master, with Col. Burdett as Deputy and Regent pro. tem. It was also announced that the Right Hon. the Earl of Limerick would be Senior Grand Superintendent, and another eminent brother, Junior; while letters of adhesion had been received from more than fifty noblemen and other brethren, who also expressed great regret for their inability to attend the inauguration of the Bective Sanctuary. The election of six brethren Sanctuary. for the 66°, the next grade worked, was then proceeded with, when the choice of the brethren fell upon Bros. J. Brett, Donald C. M. Gordon, J. Lewis Thomas, John Boyd, George Kenning and Raynham W. Stewart. The alms having been collected, the Sanctuary was closed in solemn form, and between thirty and forty brethren adjourned to supper, and a pleasant evening was spent. The toasts given were, "The Queen and the Order," "The Earl of Bective, Sov. Grand Master-nominate," "Col. Buroett, Regent, with better health to him,"

"The Earl of Limerick and the Supreme Council-General," for which S. Bros. Rosenthal, 90°, and Major Finney, 90°, ably responded; "The elected Members of the 66°," for which Bros. Boyd and Kenning returned thanks. W. Bro. Carpenter, 33°, in his usual felicitious style, proposed "The health of S. Bro. Little, 90°," which was exceedingly well received, and briefly responded to, after which the evening's proceedings terminated.

It may be as well to state, that in all probability the Rite—beautiful and philosophical as it is—would not have been openly worked in England by the few members who were scattered here and there, had it not come to their knowledge that certain unauthorised persons were about to start it in the metropolis on their own account, and thus add another Masonic Jurisdiction to those already existing. The members thereupon sought and obtained powers to form a working body, offered to annex it to the Red Cross Order for administrative purposes, and commenced operations with the success which we have now the pleasure of placing on record.

THE GRAND MARK MASTER OF ENGLAND AND THE SCOTCH MARK MASTERS.

(To the Editor of The Freemason.)

SIR AND BROTHER,—Your widely-circulated journal contained a report on December 17th, of some remarks made by me at the banquet held after the closing of the last Grand Mark Lodge.

What I then said with reference to Scotch Mark Masonry in Lancashire has, I regret to find, given offence to the Lancashire Scottish Mark Masters. I am exceedingly sorry that my remarks should have been so understood, and that they were not more carefully worded; and I beg to take this opportunity of assuring both the brethren in question and all others who may have read your report, that nothing was further from my intention than to wound the feelings of the Mark Masters hailing from Scotland, or to imply the slightest want of respect to them.

I wish, then, to say now what my words, had they been more clearly expressed, would have conveyed at the time, viz.:—That Scottish Mark Masters had been maintaining a definite principle in Lancashire (in my opinion, of course, a mistaken one); the principle, namely, that the Mark degree could only lawfully be conferred under a Grand Chapter warrant. That they had no doubt hoped that all Mark Masters in Lancashire would have accepted this principle, but that the contrary principle of an independent English jurisdiction having been so zealously maintained by a large number of Lancashire brethren, the Scotch principle was found to be no longer tenable.

I need scarcely say that I never intended to imply that Scotch Mark Lodges would be unable to exist side by side with the English lodges. Knowing as I do the zeal and high character of the Scotch Mark Masters in Lancashire, such an idea would be simply ridiculous.

But what I desire to be understood as saying is: That the harmonious and united working of the degree under one jurisdiction being the object of the Scottish Mark Masters no less than of ourselves, and the former finding that a large body of English Mark Masters would not accept the jurisdiction of the Grand Chapter of Scotland, and that a united body under Scotland was impossible, they were willing to enter into negotiations for union with the Grand Mark Lodge.

In conclusion, I will only say that no one can more highly appreciate that willingness on the part, both of the Grand Chapter of Scotland and the Lancashire brethren hailing from the Grand Chapter, than myself, or the honourable and truly Masonic spirit which prompted it; as no one can be more anxious than I am that all past disagreements should be buried, and that the valuable and important body of Scottish Mark Masters in Lancashire, now dissevered from us, should, in union with us, place the Mark degree in the position which it deserves to occupy.

I am, Sir and Brother, yours fraternally, G. R. PORTAL, G.M.M.

THE ANCIENT AND ACCEPTED RITE.

(To the Editor of The Freemason.)

"I will wash mine hands in innocency: So will I compass thine altar, O Lord!"

It may be accepted as an axiom in all civilised countries, at the present day, that hereditary right, the general suffrages of bodies corporate, and Parliamentary enactments alone confer the privilege of office, and that there is no such principle recognised as that of spontaneous election, any more than in physics that of spontaneous generation is received.

Where a small minority of nine men assumes to elect itself a Supreme Council mero or propria motu, such an act is a violation of all law and a direct usurpation of the rights of the majority. Such an act of spontaneous generation, as we may term it, is simply ridiculous in itself, and would call for nothing but neglect and contempt were it not that a large majority of the Craft, who are unacquainted with the true origin of this Supreme Council of the 33°, suppose naturally that it has been established by general election; and if not by election throughout the Craft, then it is only the shadow of a mighty name, and simply confined to the affairs of the so called 33rd Degree, which affairs, like the degree itself, are of a purely arbitrary origin, based upon gratuitous assumptions. In the name of common sense, what Mason, with the true interests of the Craft at heart, or knowing the facts of the case, will hesitate to repudiate pretensions so preposterous, where one elects the other among themselves, as in the late Manx "House of Keys"—an absurdity not to be tolerated by modern legislation. There can be, therefore, no subordination due to those who have set the example of insubordination by an usurpation of the rights of others. I regret to say that I was myself ensnared into the Rite of 33° by a flagrant misrepresentation; but being so, and having paid my fees, I condoned the offence, but refused to go further. But as I was admitted without law, so is the attempt made to unseat me without law; but ex nihilo nihil fit, out of nothing nothing can be made. And if by this species of illicit election a spurious degree can be contrived, it is but a fanciful idea, and its promoters can neither confer real rank nor take Judgments with legal force cannot it away. emanate from that the constitution of which is, in its very nature, illegal; and the taint of fraud (so to speak) will vitiate every transaction in which it is found. Wherefore, by my own sole authority, in a legal point of view, I have as much right to suspend the members of the so-called Supreme Council, and declare as a Commander of the old ne plus ultra (their 32°), that all their acts and functions, ab initio, are null and void, and absolutely abrogated, as they could have any right to fulminate any personal decree against me. Supported by the great body of Freemasons, the Council and all its usurpations might be swept away by a legiti-mate exercise of our power, like some gipsy encampment surreptitiously attempting to invade the rights of commonage and to form an enclosure by stealthy occupation.

Who, knowing the circumstances, can calmly endure the meddling and unmasonic invasion of our rights with pretensions so extravagant and absurd? If brethren must and will have high degrees, the Rite of Misraim, consisting of ninety degrees, the K.H., or ne plus ultra, being sixty-five degrees, is superior in every respect to this. Even Dr. Mackey, the great American Mason, admitting that it is the most philosophical of all the rites. Nor do we believe that it will attempt to interfere with the Templar Kadosh, but rather seek its support.

But the time has come for some influential Mason to put away that fancy association called the 33rd Degree, unestablished as it is by Masonic law or precedent; and to make it render an account to the Grand Lodge of England of the fees, amounting to many thousands of pounds, of which it has possessed itself, and which should be carried, under the circumstances, to the credit of the Treasurer of Grand Were the members of the Supreme Council following a profession on the strength of their diplomas, from accredited sources, and practising for fees, the latter would undubitably be entitled to personal remuneration for services rendered. But here there is no accrediting diploma-no profession, no services-but simply the self-created function of receiving fees, which cannot be considered as due, or the reward of any personal services. And therefore those who have taken upon themselves to levy them ought to be held amenable to the Grand Lodge for a grave offence—inasmnch as they have usurped functions not pertaining to them on any hypothesis, and have assumed to exercise a position and authority detrimental to the status of Grand Lodge and subversive of order and discipline throughout the Craft at large.

It has been the policy of the Supreme Council (so-called) in every possible way to oppose those who, like myself, have shown a spirit of restiveness, and to hunt them down at times even in Craft at large-this being the necessary result of a self-elective centeralizing authority issuing its mandates to its subordinates, and determined to maintain power at all hazards. Hence, when I proposed four candidates, men of position most highly recommended by their lodges, I was met by two Sublime Princes of the Royal Secret (32°) ready to oppose them at the ballot; and as at the banquet afterwards I announced my intention of again working the old Templar Kadosh, or ne plus ultra, I was called to account for my conduct by this surreptitious authority. The following extracts from a recent correspondence are given to save me from misrepresentation, and will elucidate my further reasons for bringing before the general Masonic body the proposal to suppress the so-called Supreme Council as not requisite in the Craft. The replies were mere maudling letters, useless to print for any purpose:-

"43, Chorlton-road, Manchester,

"Nov. 11th, 1870.

"Dear Sir and Brother,—I am duly in receipt of your favour of the 9th inst., informing me that some 'Commission' had been appointed to inquire some 'Commission' had been appointed to inquire into and report upon my conduct at a late meeting of the 'Palatine Rose Croix Chapter.' The phrase-ology of your letter, coupled with verbal report, precludes my supposing, as I have a right to do that this letter springs from an attempt to do me justice against certain misrepresentations, made by four individuals against four well-recommended Irish candidates proposed by me, and whose reiterated falsehoods were very energetically repelled by me at the time. But before I can reply further to your letter, I must beg you to inform me: I. What is the object of said inquiry? 2. By what authority does the commission sit? In reference to query 2 I may observe that I do not claim to be either a member of your Rite or a Sovereign Prince, nor have I ever either contributed to, or been asked to contribute to, the election of Grand Inquisitor Commanders, Sublime Princes of the Royal Secret, or Most Potent Sovereign Grand Commanders; and or Most Potent Sovereign Grand Commanders; and it is therefore very desirable that I should know who these 'Commissioners' are who assume to them-selves these high prerogatives, as it is usually con-sidered good Masonic law that the governed should have some voice in the election of such high func-When I hear further from you as to these points, I will consider whether it may be advisable to be present at your 'Commission' either myself, or to send my solicitor to protect my good name and fame so slanderously assailed. At present it seems to me that your so-called Supreme Council have adroitly seized upon a circumstance which, whatever the result, may equally suit me or them."

" Nov. 13th, 1870.

In my reply to your notification I took the liberty of inquiring: I. What it the object of the commission? 2. Under what authority does it sit? At the same time I alluded to the fact that the so-called Supreme Council is a self-constituted body, having not the slightest representative character or called Supreme Council is a self-constituted body, having not the slightest representative character or authority from the governed. But your satisfaction of these question would be scarcely sufficient to enable me to come to a conclusion, and I must beg for information on these other three points: 3. Who are the Most Wise Potentates, Grand Inquisitors, and Sublime Princes of whom the commission is composed—their Masonic rank and selvitices, and is composed—their Masonic rank and services, and their trade or professions? 4. What other Sovereign Princes are conjoined with me in this complaint, as laid before the so-called Supreme Council? 5. Who has preferred the said complaint?

[Here followed by name charges of unmasonic conduct, better omitted, also showing the ridicule brought on tradesmen by the assumption of the magniloquent titles common to this Order.]

"My hostility to the unrepresentative character of "My hostility to the unrepresentative character of your so-called Supreme Council and exquisite and sublime irony in such designations as the "Illustrious Sovereign Prince John Yarker, Yarn and Cloth Merchant, Manchester," have been well known for the last half-dozen years, and has brought down no end of malignant venom on my head. I have been represented as crotchety and quarrelsome by people who knew that they were uttering the most deliberate falsehoods; and in every case where I have met with unmasonic treatuttering the most deliberate falsehoods; and in every case where I have met with unmasonic treatment the offender has been one of your ineffable and Sublime Potentates. This is so well known to me that I barely hesitate to mention names. In the face of this I can only refer to an active and useful Masonic career of sixteen years, during which I have occupied the chief chair in every rite and degree, aiding in keeping alive and constituting several Masonic lodges, Mark lodges, chapters, and encampments; and I challenge any individual out of your so-called Supreme Council to say that during such period I have been unmeek, uncharitable, quarrelsome, or guilty of a single unmasonic act; or, commercially, of a single disreputable transaction. Yet during all this time I have seen the wicked flourishing like a green bay tree, and bankrupts in character and reputation promoted to high office. In fine, the treatment I have always office. In fine, the treatment I have always received at the hands of members of your Rite (and from members of your Rite solely have I received unmasonic treatment) has been such that for many years I abstained from all attendance at the Palatine Chapter of Rose Croix, and the second meeting I did attend afterwards was to meet with a repetition of insults, snubs, and snobbish manners.
"I nowawait your reply to these two letters, which

I beg you not to delay, as I wish to close the correspondence by a final reply, when I know what are the grounds which your so-called Supreme Council have assumed on the question.'

"Nov. 15th, 1870.

"I received your very proper letter this evening, but you must see for yourself that I cannot attend any meeting which does not take into account my charges against others, and which I am prepared to support on proper occasion. This I must say, that a similar course of procedure would at any moment produce a still stronger eblution of feeling. Had this unpleasantness not occurred, I might have probably become a zealous member of your Rite, reserving my disapprovals for more convenient occasions. As it is, all that is now past, and I must perforce bide my time. My experience of the notorious clique who have reduced the Palatine Chapter from being one of the best in England to an attendance of about a dozen members is the only dance of about a dozen members, is the only unpleasant reminiscence I can possibly have of Freemasonry.

[Here followed certain names and charges better omitted, and a suggestion that I ought in a Masonic manner to have been asked to withdraw the candidates privately, if their admission was not desired.]

"In my previous letter I alluded to the fact that there was no representative government of the Rite in existence, that one elected the other like the late Manx "House of Keys;" and I further pointed out the absolutely ridiculous and ironical nature of all its titles, an objection which did did not and does not exist in the old English Rite now and formerly practised here.

"The question of insubordination and allegiance is a very peculiar and conflicting one, and I do not consider myself to belong to your Supreme Council, not being in possession of any degree over which they can claim exclusive jurisdiction. When I became a member of the Palatine Chapter of became a member of the Palatine Chapter of Rose Croix I was induced to become so on the representation that it was a continuation of the Jerusalem Chapter of Rose Croix, which had a chapter of the Order, as well as of Kadosh and ne plus ultra, long before your Supreme Council was ever heard of; and of this chapter and all its degrees (revived then) I am a Past Commander. The Rose Croix and Kadosh are perfectly legal and stand by themselves without the assistance of your stand by themselves without the assistance of your Supreme Council. Indeed, there is no degree but Supreme Council. Indeed, there is no degree but the 33° over which your Supreme Council can legi-timately claim jurisdiction, and even in that you are timately claim jurisdiction, and even in that you are a self-constituted authority, as if I, a 33°, were to establish a 34° for my friends. All degrees of the rite worth retaining were possessed by the Grand Conclave of Templars since 1791, whilst you obtruded yourselves here in 1846 only, and it is upon the ruins of that Grand Conclave that you have erected your Supreme Council. Besides this, it is almost impossible, in the confused working of the Palatine Chapter as I have seen it given, to say what any one possesses.

"But this is by no means the worst feature of your case. You are, or ought to be, aware that your Rite originated with certain non-recognised Masons at Paris, in 1758, styling themselves Emperors of the East and West, and the twenty-five degrees possessed by these Sublime Potentates were governed by an elective body. From Paris the Order went to Berlin, and adopted a Constitution in 1762 thence it spread to America. Here, in 1786, certain brethren, lusting for power, inserted eight more degrees, and forged a Constitution under the name of Frederick the Great of Prussia. This fraud is of Frederick the Great of Prussia. This fraud is historically well known (vide Bros. F. Bolger, Findell, and other reliable historians), and one proof of it is at my elbow in the printed statutes. I find at page 129 the four names — Stark, N. Willelm, D' Esterno, Woellna, the remaining five (the inventive faculty of the forger having failed him) is stated to have been effaced by the attrition of sea-water. Singular to say, the miraculous objections of sea-water is shown at page 124 in the attrition of the water is shown at page 134 in the attrition of the same names. But even one Council is at war with another, and Scotland brands England as illegally constituted.

"It is for Masons of probity and wisdom to say whether this fraudulent Constitution and its abettors shall be allowed to exist. But there is still another view of the matter. If the Rite is to be made the means of individual annoyance against brethren who differ on certain points in this way, by a clique without a single claim to respect, the names of these Mighty, Sublime, and Most Wise Potentates (to be found in any Masonic Calendar) must be proclaimed, and the Craft must stamp out these degrees as a Masonic pest.

"With regard to the ceremonies of the Rite, I may say that several official rituals of the whole thirtyconstituted.

say that several official rituals of the whole thirtysay that several official rituals of the whole thirty-three degrees are in my possession; and whilst many degrees are unobjectionable, the bulk are a chaos—everything valuable we had here before your Council existed, and shall have generations after it has ceased to exist.

It only remains for me to observe that this quarrel has been forced upon me greatly against my quarrel has been forced upon me greatly against my wish—not desiring to offer annoyance to your degrees, but live peaceably in my own way; but if your Supreme Council will not see justice done to me, I will do myself the justice to circulate this correspondence throughout the world. In it I have said all that I could say if present at your 'Commission,' and it is for you to report upon it to your Supreme Council."

JOHN YARKER.

P.S.—I will, if time and convenience permit, refer again to this subject, and probably give further particulars in my forthcoming work on "Secret Schools of Antiquity and of the Middle Ages."

A CHRISTMAS WISH.

An Acrostic inscribed respectfully to the members of the Royal York Lodge of Perseverance, No. 7, by a deceased Freemason's daughter, who recollects their kindness with gratitude.

Angels hear my supplication,

Christmas once again draws near. Heaven-sent gifts my home are cheering, Rend'ring bright the closing year. In our grief kind benefactors Soothed bereavement's keen distress; Taught my mother, thro' her suffering, Mentally their names to bless. At this festive season, Father, Strew Thy mercies o'er their way, Watch o'er those they love most fondly Shed Thy blessed solace o'er them, Hope's bright star shine e'er before them.

THE "RECTANGULAR REVIEW" on "FREE-MASONRY; ITS USE AND ABUSE."

(To the Editor of The Freemason.)

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER,—It is just as I exected. The balance-sheet published in your issue DEAR SIR AND BROTHER,—It is just as I expected. The balance-sheet published in your issue of the 24th ult., though giving in detail every item of expenditure, has failed to satisfy the querulous Editor of "R.R." And why? Because having started with erroneous assumptions, he is determined to maintain them at all hazards; to harden himself stubbornly against conviction, and, looking down calmly and complacently from his purist elevation, to smile condemnation on those he has so shamefully abused. I will now, in brief, "give the amount by which the debt was actually reduced by the collection of 1869":—

On the 1st January of that year we had a balance at our bankers of ... ... £1,286 Our receipts for the year from all sources 12,847 were • • •

£14,133 On the 1st January, 1869, we owed—Mortgage ... ...
Builder and Architect ... ... £10,000 8,710

£18,710 8,710 Of this we paid to Builder and Architect

Leaving a liability of ... £10,000 and therefore our debt was reduced exactly by the £8,710. Add to this the cost of the establishment at Wood Green, £4,671, and £1,334, "special expenditure," including interest, and you have a total of £14,715—the difference between £14,133 and £14,715, showing balance due to the bankers on current account 31st December, 1869, £582. I again ask, can any statement be plainer than this? We are threatened, I see, with another taking up of "the whole question of the waste of public charity (including the Masonic)." I sincerely trust that the experience of the past will be evidenced in the future, and that equity, truthfulness, and candour will take the place of those qualities which to the regret of all have characterised the singularly angular periodical which claming for itself the definition—right—has shown itself to be utterly inappreciative of what is thereby generally understood.

I am, dear Sir and Brother,

Yours faithfully and fraternally,

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER,--I am certainly at a loss to know what more a reasonable man can require to know what more a reasonable man can require than has already been furnished by Bro. Binckes in regard to the disposal of subscriptions for the support of the Boys' School. But as the Editor of the "R.R." is so very anxious to know what is done with the fees of the Stewards to the various charities, I would suggest that at some or all of the forthcoming festivals he should signify his intention of serving the honourable office of Steward; he will then be able to support the charities effectually, and likewise have his mind set at rest as to what is done with his and the other Stewards' fees.

Sincerely hoping he will stand for the Boys, and gladden the heart of Brother Binckes by a long list and a good round sum,

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER,—The inmates of the Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution wish to convey their grateful thanks to a worthy brother who has generously presented each of us with a bottle of wine to cheer us at this festive season. God bless him for his kindness! od bless him for his Kinglier.

BALD STATEMENTS.

(To the Editor of The Freemason.)

DEAR SIR,—Is not a statement like that made over the signature "C. G. Forsyth," on p. 608, No. 90 of your paper, a "bald statement"? otherwise a statement totally unsupported by evidence, and, as such, may we not set it down as the fancy of C. G. Forsyth? He says, "from the Encyclopedia Britannica we learn." How does he learn it from that work? No such paragraph as he gives, as if copied from that work, is to be found in it. No one but a man who desired to establish a fraternal connection between the Knights Templar and Freemasons would write such a paragraph. Bro. Anthony O'Neale Haye has given us the best history of K.T.'s that has ever been produced, and nowhere in it can be found that any other connectory of K.T's that has ever been produced, and nowhere in it can be found that any other connection than that of employer und employed ever existed between the Knights Templar and the Freemasons—the free smiths, or any other handicraft. And yet such paragraphs as this, I notice, are repeatedy appearing in your paper and the Freemasons' Magazine and M.M., and, being read, are believed, and disputes subsequently predicated upon them.

In No. 595 of the latter publication, on p. 428, is a paragraph copied from the Charter of Cologne. It appears as editorial, or among the "Masonic Sayings," and the object apparently of it is to show that in the sixteenth century none were made. Masons but professors of the Christian religion. Now, it would seem but reasonable that at this day the it would seem but reasonable that at this day the editor of such a respectable paper as the Freemasons' Magazine, &c., would have learned that the Charter of Cologne within years immediately following its publication by Frederick of Nassau, in 1819, was pronounced a forgery and a "Masonic fraud;" and that it and the accompanying "Records of the Lodge Valley of Peace," said to have existed at the Hague in 1637, were evidently gotten up for the purpose of creating the belief that Masonry existed in the form of five degrees in Holland as early as the beginning of the sixteenth century. In his "History of Freemasonry," Bro. Clavel enters into an exposition of this Charter of Cologne fraud more fully than any other historian I have read more fully than any other historian I have read after. He says of the "charter":—

more fully than any other historian I have read after. He says of the "charter":—

"La charte est écrite sur une feuille de parchemin, en caractères maçonnique; elle est rédigée en langue latine du moyen-âge; l'ecriture en est si altérée que sonvent il à fallu ajonter des lettres à des mots devenus in complets."

Of the register or lodge record, he says:—

"Le registre parait avoir été assez volmuineux.

Les seuls feuillets qui restent indiquent qu'ils ont fait partie d'un livre relié, et l'ont voit qu'ils ont éte endom magés par le feu."

Of both these documents he then says:—

"De savants antiquaires de l'université de Leyde ont constaté que le papier de ces feuillets est celin dont on se servait en Hollande an commencement du xvii. siecle, et que les caractères qui y sont tracés appartiennent à la mème époque."

He then gives a statement of the effect the discovery and publication of these documents had upon the brethren—some favouring their authenticity, others denying the same; and closes a paragraph upon this subject with the following:—

"Sans parler des anachronismes dont abonde la chartre pretendue de 1535, du dementi qu'elle donne aux faits incontestables et prouvés dont graph upon this subject with the following:

"Sans parler des anachronismes dont abonde la chartre pretendue de 1535, du dementi qu'elle donne aux faits incontestables et prouvés dont nous avons été l'écho dans le premier chapitre de ce livre, il y a une considération qui ruine de fond en cornble l'économie de la pièce fabriqée, et qui n'aurait pas dù échapper à la sagacité des critiques. Cetle considération la voici. L'assemblée de Cologne se plaint en son charte qu'on calomnie dans le public les intentions et le but de la société maçonnique, et elle rédige une déclaration qui a essenti ellement pour obj'et de les faire mieux connaitre. Et pourtant ce n'est pas an public, qui accueille et qui propage la calomnie, qu'elle addresse sa déclaration; c'est, aux loges, à qui elle est inutile, puisqu'elles savent pertinemment à quoi s'en tenir sur la réclite des accusations que l'on porte contre elles. Et comme si l'assemblèe de Cologne craignait que la justification qu'elle en treprend n'arrivât, par cas fortreit à la connaisance des personnes étrangères à la maçonnerie, auxquelles elle est naturellement destinée, puisque c'est à ces personnes seules qu'elle pent apprendre quelque chose, elle redige sa déclaration en langue latine, qui n'est entendue que des savants, et elle la trace en caractères maçonniques, inintelligibles pour tous autres que pour les initiés! Cette déclaration ent done été sans motif plausible, et, dès lors, il sarait absurde de pretendre que dix neuf personnes d'un esprit élevé, telles que Coligoni, Melancthon, Stanhope, et les autres, fussent venues à Cologne, de tous les points de l'Europe, tout exprès pour la rédiger."

He then pronounces the document, together and separately, fraudulent and matters which he should

He then pronounces the document, together and separately, fraudulent, and matters which he should have passed over in silence, had not some Swiss and German Masons, like the editor, I must believe of the Freemasons' Magazine, with more zeal than discretion, endeavoured to foist those frauds upon the Fraternity as authentic and well supported. While he admits that Masonry existed in Holland as elsewhere in the middle ages, it was the masonry of the stonecutter and church-builder—an organisation differing essentially from the imaginary society mentioned in the Charter of Cologne of 1535; and there, as elsewhere on the Continent, such operative Masonry was dissolved within that century, not to be again revived. Not until 1725, under the auspices of Captain Smith—he of the "use and abuse" defence of Masonry, possibly—did the Freemasonry of the present day become known in Holland, and there, in 1731, at the Hague, as Preston informs us, at an "occasional lodge," was initiated Francis, Duke of Lor-would it not be well and praiseworthy for each editor and correspondent of a Masonic paper to refrain from publishing "bald statements," particularly when they are calculated to mislead the mind of every

THE LIVERPOOL GORDOVIC EISTEDDFOD. 1870.

This literary festival was held on Monday, the 26th ult., in St. George's Hall, Liverpool, where the winning competitors in prose, poetry, and music were adorned with the prize and blue ribbon by the President, Sir Watkin Williams Wynn, Bart., M.P., P.G.M. North Wales and Shropshire, who presided on the occasion. After a most complimentary address had been read to the president, and his reply thereto, Miss Edith Wynn sang the solo, and the Birkenhead Cambrian Choral Society sang the chorus of the following song, written specially for the occasion by Bro. Evan Jones, of Chester (Hibernia Lodge, 597). The sentiments of the song were so effectively given by Miss Wynn, that an encore was immediately demanded, and the large audience joined in the chorus. The song was also given, by special request, at the evening concert, when the spaclous hall was crowded.

Chester, Dec. 5, 1870.

WE are requested to announce an alteration made in respect of the meetings of the Macdonald Lodge, No. 1216. It has been deemed advisable to limit their number, and in consequence, the regular meetings will in future be held on the second Wednesday in the months of Februrary, April, May, June, October and December instead of every month as heretofore. The place of meeting, (the Head Quarters of the First Surrey Rifle Corps, Brunswick-road, Camberwell), is not altered.

REPORT of Dr. Arthur Hill Hassall, Analyst of the "Lancet" Sanitary Commission, Author of "Food and its Adulterations," &c., &c., on Mayar's Semolina: "I have carefully tested, chemically and microscopically, the samples of Semolina sent by Messrs. L. Mayar & Co., 36, Mark Lane, London, E.C. I find them to be perfectly genuine, of excellent quality, and eminently nutritious. They contain a very large percentage of nitrogenous matter, chiefly gluten, and are far more nutritious than any other food, such as Arrowroot, Tapioca, Sago, Corn Flour, Farinaceous Food, ordinary Wheat Flour, or any of the Cereals in use as food in this country.—(Signed) ARTHUR HILL HASSALL, M.D., London."—Highly recommended by the Faculty for Infants, Invalids, &c. Makes delicious Pudding, Custards, Blanc Mange, &c. After a trial no family will be without Mayar's Semolina.

FREEMASONRY IN DEVON AND CORNWALL, 1879.

With respect to Freemasonry in these two Western provinces, we may state that in the province of Devon two new lodges have been opened, The Semper Fidelis Lodge at Exeter has been consecrated, and St. Peter's Masonic Hall, at Tiverton, dedicated. A chapter was opened at Honiton, and the progress of the Craft has been very satisfactory. The last returns of members are up to the 31st December, 1869. They show somewhere about 1.800, but these figures are deceptive because many of the brethren are returned as members of several lodges. At the Provincial Grand Lodge, which was held at Tiverton, on the 21st of July, the R.W. the P.G. Master, the Rev. John Huyshe, brought forward a motion of very great importance to the local charities connected with the Craft. By a slight increase to the annual contribution of each member—so slight that it could not be felt—an addition was made of about £80 per annum permanently to the charitable funds. This proposal of the R.W. brother was unanimously adopted, althought at first it met with some opposition, and by its adoption the P.G. Lodge will be able to increase their donations to the General Masonic Charities of England, and to elect two or three additional annuitants on the Fortescue Fund in this province.

In the Province of Comwall no new lodges have the Fortescue Fund in this province.

In the Province of Cornwall no new lodges have been warranted during the past year. There are twenty-four lodges now working in the province, the oldest being dated A.D. 1751, and the latest 1868. The province has doubled itself with respect to the number of lodges every thirty-five years since the middle of last century, but probably the culmination of that increase is attained. There are upwards of 1,000 members, and the majority of the lodges meet in lodges of their own, apart from hotel influences. The Provincial Grand Lodge was held at Truro, on the 19th July, 1870, when the Masonic Hall, built by the munificence of the R.W. the Provincial Grand Master, Bro. Augustus Smith, Esq., was dedicated in ancient form, by the P.G.M. in the presence of the P.G.M. of Devon, and a large number of brethren. The following new byelaw was then passed:—"No person, resident in any town or place where a lodge is established, shall be balloted for into any lodge held elsewhere within this province, unless the Master of the lodge, wherein he so seeks admission, shall previously make inquiry in writing of the Master of every lodge in the town or nearest the place were the candidate resides, touching the fitness of such candidate. The brother of whom such inquiry is made, shall make prompt reply thereto in writing, and it shall be incumbent on the Master to read the reply to the members of the lodge before the ballot is taken." There is also a directory for the province, edited by Bro. W. J. Hughan, the P.G. Secretary, of Truro, who is one of the most Lacyly to the members of the lodge before the ballot is taken." There is also a directory for the province, edited by Bro. W. J. Hughan, the P.G. Secretary, of Truro, who is one of the most voluminous writers on Freemasonry in this kingdom. We ought to state that Devon has also its directory. These manuals, compiled with much care, are very useful to the Craft.—Western Daily Mercury.

CHESHIRE EDUCATIONAL MASONIC INSTITUTION.

On Wednesday evening, the 21st ult., a grand concert in aid of the funds of the above institution was given in the Music Hall, Birkenhead, before a was given in the Music Hall, Birkenhead, before a numerous and highly respectable audience. By a special dispensation received from the R.W.P.G.M., Lord de Tabley, the brethren appeared in full Masonic clothing, which being a novelty in that part of Cheshire brought a great many more brethren than would otherwise have come, and in itself proved a novel spectacle to the rest of the audience.

The artists, who all kindly gave their services for the good cause were, Miss Galloway, Miss Phillips, Miss Maria Phillips; Bros. Emondson, Dumville and Robberds, (of the Gentleman's Glee Club, Manches-

Robberds, (of the Gentleman's Glee Club, Manchester); Vaudrey (of Congleton), T. J. Hughes, G. A. Wielopolski Phillips, solo cornet, Dr. Moss (of Congleton), solo flute, and Bro. Twiss, P.P.G.O. Cheshire, conductor and accompanist. The programme consisted of a selection of some beautiful songs, glees, and concerted pieces, the whole of which were rendered by the artistes in an exceedingly creditrendered by the artistes in an exceedingly creditable manner. Miss Galloway was in splendid voice, and rendered the canzonetta "Il Buon Angario" with exquisite taste and finish, while her warbling of Randeggar's "Only for One," brought from the audience a genuine burst of applause. The Misses Phillips sang very sweetly a number of simple ballads during the evening, and rendered effective aid in the concerted pieces. Bro. Edmondson's singing of "Madoline" met with well merited approval, as did also the other solos given by Bros. Hughes, Vaudrey, Robberds, and Dumville.

The audience were especially charmed by the flute solos of Dr. Moss, who showed himself a perfect master of his instrument, and Bro. Phillips showed some excellent instrumentation in his cornet solo, Chappelle's "Serenade."

The glees and other concerted pieces, in which the strength of the company appeared, were very successfully executed. As a whole we have reason to know that the audience thoroughly enjoyed the evening's entertainment, which passed off with great éclat.

It appears from the last annual report of the institution, that the balance in hand had been increased from £1,086 14s. od. to £1,223 15s. od. During the past year fifteen children had received the benefits of education, and two had received funds for the purpose of advancement in life. The satisfactory position of the funds was mainly due to increased support afforded by annual subscriptions, and the interest arising from the investments, com-paratively little having been derived from extraneous sources. There were still sixteen children on the books, and the committee had received applications to place four more on the educational fund, and from the friends of one for advancement in life.

The amount expended in paying for the education of the fifteen children was £85 8s. 9d., and towards the advancement in life of the two children £8 7s. 3d. The places at which the children received the education were, Liverpool College, Sandbach Grammar School, Wycliffe Grammar School, and at private schools at Ashton-under-Lyne, Entwistle, Warrington, Ruthin, Everton, Macclesfield, Runcom, Chester and Southport. We believe the result of the concert will be a considerable addition to the funds of the Cheshire Educational Masonic Institution.

BRO. PHILIP HARDWICK, R.A.

We regret having to announce the death of Bro. Philip Hardwick, R.A. He was the architect and designer of the warehouses and large buildings of the St. Katherine's Dock Company, the new hall of the Goldsmiths' Company, the entrance of the Euston Station of the London and North-Western Railway, and in conjunction with his son, Mr. C. P. Hardwick, of the new hall and library of Lincoln's-inn. He was for many years architect to the Duke of Wellington, and to the Greenwich Hospital Commissioners. He received the gold medal of the Institute of British Architects, and was awarded the gold medal of the Paris Exhibition of 1855. He was a Fellow of the Royal Society, of which he has been vice-president.

Bro. Hardwick was an eminent member of the Masonic Order, and for a long period filled the post of Grand Superintendent of Works in Grand

BRO. JOHN THOMAS TRICKETT, R.N.

It is our melancholy duty to record the death of Bro. John Thomas Trickett, R.N., who was a member of St. Aubyn's Lodge, No. 954, after many months of intense suffering (which he bore with noble Christian fortitude) he succumbed to that insiduous disease, consumption, on last Sunday evening, at the early age of 26 years. The lamented brother was initiated in the St. Aubyn's Lodge, No. 954, at Davenport, on the 20th February; joined the Villiers Lodge, No. 1194, on October 2nd, 1869, and continued a subscriber until the time of his death. He was advanced in 1869 to the Mark Degree in Southwark Mark Lodge, No. 22, installed into the Rose Croix 18°, and in the St. Aubyn's Chapter at Devonport; was an annual subscriber to the Male and Female Annuity Fund, and last year became a Life Subscriber to both funds. He was a truly good Mason, and had he been spared would have continued his useful career in the Order, although being a naval officer, he was unable to take office in his lodges or chapters. He was beloved by all who knew him; we deeply sympathise with his father (who holds distinguished position in the Craft) and all his family for the loss they have sustained.

MASONIC FESTIVAL OF ST. JOHN. CONSECRATION OF A NEW HALL.

CONSECRATION OF A NEW HALL.

On St. John's Day the members of the Lodge of Glasgow (St. John, No. 3 bis.), assembled in their new hall, No. 213, Buchanan-street, to take part in the solemn ceremony of its consecration.

Bro. F. A. Barrow, D.P.G.M., occupied the chair, and he was supported on the right by Bro. Steel, S.G.M., and on the left by Bro. the Rev. Dr. Burns, V.W.P.G.C., and other brethren.

The lodge having been opened in due form, The V.W. the Prov. G. Chaplain delivered an oration. Before speaking of the solemn aspects of the Craft, he begged to congratulate the lodge on the beautiful hall in which they had met. It was creditable to them that they had provided such accommodation for themselves, and he hoped they would have many pleasant meetings in it in the time to come, and would initiate many who would would have many pleasant meetings in it in the time to come, and would initiate many who would be an ornament to the Craft and likewise a blessing to those with whom they were concerned. A very happy time had been chosen for its consecration happy time had been chosen for its consecration—a time when one of their great principles was very apparent in the intercourse of society. This was the season of goodwill, of happy and cordial greetings—the season pre-eminently, he might say, set apart for kindliness and the interchange of friendship. (Hear, hear). That feature was certainly one of the most distinguishing of the venerable Craft, for it inculcated upon its members a large-hearted charity and it required them in any inter-Craft, for it inculcated upon its members a large-hearted charity, and it required them in any inter-course they had with the world to follow out the principle of love. And certainly never was there a season of the year more fitted for giving expression to feelings of benevolence and the principles of the Craft than the present. However frequent might be the visitations of sickness and death, they were specially frequent in the fall of the year. Poverty, too, tightened its grip with the cold, and they found that many of their brethren were not only obliged to combat the storms, but also to battle with sore that many of their brethren were not only obliged to combat the storms, but also to battle with sore disease and want; and were their more fortunate brethren to extend to them their sympathy, and minister to their wants, Freemasonry would be felt as a power in the world. He would recall to their minds the high code of morality which was inculcated by Freemasonry. It required them not only to have loving hearts, but also to lead pure and honourable lives; and never, perhaps, in the history of the world was there greater need felt for that than now. It was for Freemasons in this country, therefore, to live in the spirit of the Craft, to set an than now. It was for Freemasons in this country, therefore, to live in the spirit of the Craft, to set an example of what was good, and to practise those principles which underlie the Order. If they did so, they would find Freemasonry becoming agreater power; and instead of being a mere name—as to some extent it was at present—it would be felt to be a reality, their lodges would be largely swelled in number, and they would discover that they existed for a great purpose, and that it was an Order blessed largely by God for the good of their fellow-men. (Applause.)

The P.G.M. Depute complimented the lodge on the great zeal and assiduity they had shown in their efforts to procure a new hall.

efforts to procure a new hall.

813TH ANNIVERSARY OF GLASGOW ST. JOHN.

The members of this lodge held their festival on St. John's Day. There were upwards of one hundred present, and the chair was occupied by Bro. Baird, R.W.M. Bro. William Kyle, jun., acted as croupier. On the removal of the cloth, and the disposal of the introductory toasts, "Prosperity to the Glasgow St. John Lodge" was pledged with enthusiasm. The R.W.M. replied, and referred to the long array of honourable work to which the lodge could point as having been performed by it the long array of honourable work to which the lodge could point as having been performed by it in years bye-gone. Few lodges could show a brighter history, and he had no doubt it would be equally unsullied in the future.

In proposing the "Three Grand Lodges," the R.W.M. said that at the last Masonic festival in the City Hall Bro. Lord Rosslyn, who was in the chair, stated, in the absence of the reporters, that he had received an invitatation to spend Christmas with the Prince and Princess of Wales, at Sandringham, but that he excused himself on the ground of having to attend a Masonic gathering. He (the R.W.M.) thought that was a most promising augurt for the future of Masonry.

The evening was agreeably varied by good singing.

CONSECRATION OF THE TALBOT LODGE, No. 1323, at SWANSEA.

Seldom has it been our lot to be present at a more interesting and successful Masonic meeting than that, the proceedings of which we are about to chronicle. From first to last there was not a halt or hitch, not a single contretemps to mar the regularity and beauty of the whole.

It has been for some time in contemplation to It has been for some time in contemplation to form a new lodge in Swansea, to be called in honour of the R.W. the Prov. G. Master, Bro. Theodore Mansel Talbot, the "Talbot Lodge;" and it was by its projectors unanimously decided to request the talented and skilled brother, Edward James Morris, the deservedly respected Deputy Prov. G. Master, to become its first W.M. Bro. Stone, the worthy host of the Mackworth Arms Hotel, with the liberality and promptitude which has always distinguished him, determined to meet the wishes of the brethren, and immediately set to work and built in the rear of his large house a splendid suits of rooms for the accommoda io 1 of the new lodge. The principal room is 50 feet long, 20 wide, and about as many high, and is lighted by a sunlight in the centre. In the east there is a raised dais, and fixed raised seats for the brethren run all round. The chairs and furniture are of polished mahogany, and chairs and furniture are of polished mahogany, and are very handsome.

are very handsome.

The consecration of the new rooms and installation of the W.M. were fixed for Thursday, the 8th of December, at one o'clock, when there was a very large attendance of brethren from the two divisions of the province of Scuth Wales. As far as we have been able to ascertain, there were fully 150 present.

The lodge, which is numbered 1323, was opened by the W.M. of the Cambrian Lodge, No. 364, Neath, assisted by the Past Masters of his lodge as officers, and a dispensation from the R.W. the P.G. Master was communicated, authorising the W.M. designate to initiate two gentlemen who were candidesignate to initiate two gentlemen who were candidates for the honour of admission into Masanry, in order that they might be enabled to witness the consecration and installation ceremonies. This dates for the honour of admission into Massary, in order that they might be enabled to witness the consecration and installation ceremonies. This was accordingly done, and the candidates—J. J. Jenkins, Esq., Mayor of Swansea, and Walter Mills, Esq., an influential merchant of the same place—were initiated by Bro. Morris, Deputy Prov. G. Master, in a most beautiful and impressive manner. The "wearers of the purple" then left the lodgeroom, and with the R.W. the Prov. G. Master, Bro. Theodore Mansell Talbot (whose arm was, we regretted to observe, in a sling, having recently been broken in the hunting-field), and the Deputy Prov. G. Master, Bro. Morris, re-entered in procession, admirably marshalled by the Prov. G. Dir. of Cer., Bro. Jones-Hewson.

The chair was then taken by the R.W. the P.G. Master, who proceeded to consecrate and dedicate the lodge in conformity to ancient custom, and afterwards to instal the W.M., both ceremonies being most admirably performed.

The officers were then appointed and invested in the followling order: Bros. Charles Bath, P. Prov. S.G.W., S.W.; George Browne Brock, P. Prov. J.G.W., J.W.; Charles Tebbotts Heartley, Prov. G. Chap., Chap.; Samuel Browning Power, Treas.; William. Cox, P. Prov. G. Treas., Sec.; Richard Aubrey Essery, S.D.; John Jones-Hewson, Prov. G.D.C., J.D.; James Griffith Hall, Prov. S.G.W., D.C.; George Allen, P. Prov. G. Sec., Org.; Howel Walters Williams, P. Prov. G. Purs., I.G.; and Henry Simons, Tyler. Each one, on his investiture, being greeted with some exceedingly happy and well-chosen remarks by the talented W.M.

The lodge was then closed in due form, and the brethren adjourned to a magnificent banquet in the spacious ball-room of the Mackworth Arms' Hotel. An exceedingly pleasant evening was spent, and many good songs and glees effectively rendered, the spacious ball-room of the Mackworth Arms' Hotel. An exceedingly pleasant evening was spent, and many good songs and glees effectively rendered, the musical arrangements of the whole meeting being admirably managed by Bro. Middleton, P. Prov.G. Org. This gentleman is a solicitor at Neath, whose musical talents are of a very high order, and the manner in which he managed his department reflects the highest credit on him. He was ably assisted by several other brethren, more especially by Bro. Jones-Hewson.

by Bro. Jones-Hewson.

The success of the Talbot Lodge may be looked upon as assured, presided over as it is by one who is second to none in a knowledge of Masonry, and officered by men also of recognised skill and ability.

CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXER.—Opiates

CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXER.— Opiates Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief in Coughs, Colds, and all Pulnonary diseases. Instead of such fallacious remedies, which yield momentary relief at the expense of enfeebling the digestive organs and thus increasing that debility which lies at the root of the malady, modern science points to Crosby's Balsamic Cough Elixer, as the true remedy.—Select Testimonial. Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the "Anti-Lancet," says: "I have repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably it subdued cough, Pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of pulmonary consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as a most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment for this disease."—This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution Hence it is used with the most signal success es Astlmas, Bronchitis, Consumption, Coughs, Influenza, Night Sweat. of Consumption, Quinsy, and all affections of the throad and chest. Sold by all respectable Chemists and Patent Medicine Dealers in bottles at 1s. 9d., 4s. 6d. and 11s. each, and wholesale by JAS. M. Ckossy, Chemist, Scarborough. ** Invalids should read Crosby's Prize Treatise on "Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels," a copy of which can be obtained gratis of any respectable Chemist.— [Advt.]

of which can be obtained gratis of any respectable Chemist. [Advt.] HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Indisputable Remedies.—In the use of these medicaments there need be no hesitation or doubt of their cooling, healing, and puifying properties. The Ointment stands unrivalled for the facility it displays in relieving, healing, and thoroughly curing the most inveterate sores and ulcers and in cases of bad legs and bad breasts it acts as a charm. The Pills are the most effectual remedy ever discovered for the cure of liver complaints—diseases most disastrous in their effects, deranging all the proper functions of the organs affected, inducing restlessness, weariness, melancholy, inability to sleep, and pain in the side, until the whole system is exhausted. These wonderful pills, if taken according to the printed directions accompanying each box, strike at the root of the malady, stimulate the stomach and liver into a healthy action, and effect a cure.—[Advt.]

SCHWEITZER'S COCOATINA,

Anti-Dyspeptic Cocoa or Chocolate Powder.

Guaranteed to contain NOTHING BUT PURE SOLUBLE COCOA of the finest quality

COCOATINA is the highest class of Cocea or Chocolate that can possibly be produced. It has been celebrated many years for purity, flavour, strength, unvarying quality, and solubility.

The FACULTY pronounce it "the most nutritious and perfectly digestible Cocea." It is absolutely free from sugar or any admixture, the "excess of fatty matter" being extracted without prejudice to flavour or nutritive quality, thus forming a soothing, invigorating, perfectly digestible, and delicious beverage.

Sold in air-tight Cylindrical Tin Packages only, at 1s. 6d., 3s., 5s. 6d., 1os. 6d., and 2os. each, by all Chemists, Grocers, Italian Warehousemen, and Confectioners.

COCOATINA A LA VANILLE, at same prices, is superior to the best Vanilla Chocolates—much cheaper, perfectly digestible, and made instantaneously.

Read this with care and attention.)

THE MANUFACTORY of MAYAR'S SEMOLINA was established in 1815. It is the oldest and the largest in the World, Twenty-five Million pounds being yearly produced. (25,000,000.)

Our SEMOLINA is the staple food in France, Russia, Spain, Italy, &c., and will soon be that of England. It has obtained 24 PRIZE MEDALS
in the Great Exhibitions for its superiority over all others, and is pronounced by the most eminent members of the Medical Profession, both in London and in Paris, to be far more Nutritious than Tapioca, Arrowroot, corn flour (which are only Starch), or any farinaceous food already introduced into this country. See Dr. Hassali's Analytical Report in the columns of this paper.

N.B.—Being determined to maintain its reputation, we again CAUTION the Public, that an imitation, to which a false and ridiculous name has been given, is introduced by a well known Firm, taking advantage of its name and publicity to sell a similar article of very inferior quality, to realise extra profits, and who advertise in favour of that article the qualities possessed by our Semolina.

As a proof of our assertion we challenge a comparison, by analysis, between our Semolinian and the so-called Pearlina.

M & A R'S SEMOL is solely the heart of the very best Wheat.

S S E M O L I N A is richer than any other farinaceous food in Azotic matter, indispensable in the muscular formation of the body. M »A Y A R ' S

GRAND HARMONIUMS FOR MASONIC LODGES.

THE "OBERON" HARMONIUM.

"A dwelling-place
For all sweet sounds and harmonies."—Wordsworth

For all sweet sounds and harmonies."—Wordsworth.

The value of Musical Instruments lies in quality. These Harmoniums are delicately voiced, and will speak to the least breath of wind, giving their full harmonies as equally prompt as the lightest strains of melody; clearness of touch, as in the piano, is attained, and the merriest of dance tunes may be played with no ack of sprightliness and eelerity. The quality of tone is rich and bright, yielding full, sustained, and sonorous harmonies.

The diapason character of the "Oberon" Harmonium is thoroughly in sympathy with the timbre of the English voice, and affords an admirable support both in solo and in choral singing.

Novel in style and construction, and elegant in design. Pedal Harmoniums built to specification.

Instruments specially prepared for India, with mahogany sound-boards, and every care in providing for the get-at-able-ness of all the interior arrangements.

GLENFIELD STARCH

is the only kind used in Her Majesty's Laundry

Her Majesty's Laundry
THOSE LADIES who have not yet used the GLENFIELD STARCH, are respectfully solicited to give it a trial, and carefully follow out the directions printed on every package. It is rather more difficult to make than other Starches, but when this is overcome, they will say, like the Queen's Laundress, that it is the finest Starch they ever used.
When you ask for the Clenfield, see that you get it.
